Pneumonia, and that the allegations that appeared in the Press at that time regarding the cause of her death had not been substantiated.

Although the enquiry proved that her death was due to natural causes, it was noticed by Government that certain irregularities had been committed on matters of procedure etc. Government have after due consideration ordered that disciplinary action be taken against some of the concerned officers.

SUBJECT: KANNADA TYPEWRITER.

The question of devising a suitable Key-board for a Kannada Typewriter has been engaging the attention of several patriotic workers for years past but definite results have not been achieved so far. Considering the urgent importance of a Kannada Typewriter for the Karnataka country as a whole, the Government of Mysore have recently appointed an expert Committee for examining the question in all its aspects and recommending a standard key-board. As it is essential that the key-board should be common for the typewriter and the Lino-type (Printing) Machine, and as it is not feasible to provide for all the primary letters, subsidiary forms, figures and other symbols at present in vogue, the Committee has been asked to go into the question of reform of Kannada script and embody in the proposed key-board such reforms as may be found to be inevitable.

The committee has held four sittings so far, examined certain gentlemen who have designed their own key-boards and taken note of the investigations that have been conducted difficulties encountered, and progress achieved so far. Some of the gentlemen who have interested themselves in Script Reform have also been examined and it is proposed to invite a few more to tender evidence on the subject. The Committee is not aware of the addresses of yet others who are interested in these matters and requests that interested gentlemen may please favour the Committee with such information as may be useful in formulating proposals that will soon result in meeting the need for a Kannada typewriter.

As final recommendations are expected to be sent up to Government early, intending gentlemen are requested to contact forthwith either the Chairman of the Committee (Sri. T. T. Sharma, Diagonal Road, Visveswarapuram) or its Secretary (Sri S. G. Narasimhaiya, Assistant Secretary to Government, Old Public Offices, Bangalore).

Subject:—Extension of the Central Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, to Mysore.

The Industrial Disputes (Appellate Tribunal) Act, 1950 which received the assent of the President on 20th May 1950, extends to the whole of India except the State of Jammu and Kashmir.

It provides for the constitution of a Labour Appellate Tribunal by the Government of India to deal with appeals from the decisions of industrial tribunals, courts, wage boards and other statutory bodies set up under the Central and State enactments for the adjudication of industrial disputes. Appeals will be preferable on questions of law, irrespective of the subject matter of the dispute, but on matters of fact only in certain matters.

The Act also makes certain incidental changes in the existing law, Central as well as State, relating to industrial disputes, pending the enactment of the Labour Relations Bill, 1950, by the Parliament.

The Act also extends the Central Industrial Disputes Act 1947, to all Part B States except the State of Jammu and Kashmir.

So far as Mysore State is concerned, the provisions of the Mysore Labour Laws, in so far as they relate to industrial disputes, and to the extent of their repugnancy with the Central laws, have become void and inoperative.

The Government of Mysore have already constituted an Industrial Tribunal under the Central Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, as extended to Mysore and have referred a number of industrial disputes for adjudication.

Certain important changes have been made in the Central Industrial Disputes Act, 1947. The more important of these are :—

1 Section 33 as modified, prohibits the discharge or punishment whether by dismissal or otherwise, of any workman during the pendency of conciliation, or adjudication proceedings without the express permission in writing of the Conciliation Officer, Board, or Tribunal.

2 Section 33 A enables an employee aggrieved by an act of contravention of Section 33, to lodge a complaint with the Tribunal and empowers the Tribunal to deal with the complaint as if it were a dispute referred to, or pending before it.

3 Awards of Industrial Tribunals have been made automatically binding on the parties on the expiry of thirty days from the date of their publication, and where there is no provision for publication, from the date of making the award or decision.

4 Awards of an Industrial Tribunal under the Central Act shall continue to be binding on the parties even after the stipulated period of operation, until a period of two months has elapsed from the date on which notice is given by any party bound by the award to the other party, or parties intimating its intention to terminate the award.

5 Any money due from an employer, or the cash value of any benefit which is capable of being computed in terms of money, under an award or decision of an Industrial Tribunal appointed under the Central or State Act is recoverable as arrears of land revenue, or as a public demand by the appropriate Government on an application made to it by the person entitled to the money. Industrial Tribunals under the Central Act have also been empowered to award at their discretion, costs of, or incidental to, any proceedings before them and such costs are recoverable in the same way.

6 The right of representation of parties by legal practitioners in proceedings under the Central Act has been restricted to proceedings before a Tribunal and that too only with the consent of the other party and with the leave of the Tribunal.

It is hoped that representatives of employers and employees will take note of the changes brought about by the extension of the Central Act to the State.
